This map shows a representation of Native Title claims and determinations under the Commonwealth Native Title Act 1993, as at 17 November 2023, sourced from the Native Title Tribunal. Native Title law has played an important role in recognising the continuing rights of Traditional Owners to their Country, however the Queensland Government acknowledges the limitations of the law and its failure to fully recognise the connection of First Nations peoples and their Ancestors to Country. For further information, confirmation or outcome of determinations, refer to Native Title Tribunal website.
